A Faithful Servant

Grace International School is blessed to have experienced teachers from around the world who are dedicated to serving God in world missions. One of our longest serving teachers is Amy Blair. A native of Illinois, USA, Amy has been a devoted teacher at Grace for almost sixteen years.

Currently teaching 5th graders, Amy notes, “As my former students grow up, mature, graduate, attend university, and begin their careers, my greatest joy is that many of my students have grown into men and women of God.” One former student has even returned to serve alongside Amy as a teacher.

After arriving at Grace in the summer of 2003 with an excitement to begin teaching, God gave her a passion and love for the Thai people. She decided to immerse herself in the Thai language, culture, and customs to better understand her newly adopted home. She even spent some time living in various villages to experience traditional Thailand. “Now I get to share the love of Jesus and build relationships with my Thai friends at the markets, at school, and at church.” She has had the joy of seeing several of these friends join her in God’s kingdom.

Amy’s dedication to her ministry is just a part of what makes Grace unique. Dozens of staff members like her are transforming lives for Christ through the students, colleagues, friends, and neighbors they encounter. As Amy says, “I consider it a blessing to be called by God to serve at Grace.”
